| Description   |                           |
| Description of problem:  |                           |
| When using `katello-installer --help`, one of the available flags references "RedHat".   |                           |
| Version-Release number of selected component (if applicable):GA Snap3  |                           |
| How reproducible:  |                           |
| Steps to Reproduce:  |                           |
| 1. katello-installer --help  |                           |
| 2. View help context for "--foreman-configure-epel-repo"   |                           |
| Actual results:  |                           |
| --foreman-configure-epel-repo If disabled the EPEL repo will not be configured on RedHat family systems. (default: false)                      |                           |
| Expected results:  |                           |
