Description
In satellite-clone we use a hammer script to disassociate capsules. If we can get testing of these hammer commands it would help to prevent breakages in our script.
The script can be found here: https://github.com/RedHatSatellite/satellite-clone/blob/master/roles/satellite-clone/files/disassociate_capsules.rb
The commands we use are: capsule list capsule content lifecycle-environments capsule info capsule content remove-lifecycle-environment capsule content add-lifecycle-environment

This issue tracks hammer-cli-foreman `capsule list` and `capsule info` tests only. <http://projects.theforeman.org/issues/19184> is for all the `capsule content` commands in hammer-cli-katello.

Changing this back to Foreman. This issue tracks the `hammer capsule info|list` commands, which are a part of hammer-cli-foreman. I created #19184 for the `hammer capsule content ...` commands in Katello.

hammer-cli-foreman doesn't have any "capsule" commands, can you double-check please? The term is a Katello one, I believe.

Ah, gotcha. I'll close this one and use the other issue to track all the commands. Sorry about the confusion.
