Description

It looks like a while ago someone went in and edited this document with what should have been an issue ticket rather than just a wiki edit. As instead of documentation the second half has their issues and workarounds. Can someone who knows whats going on read over it and propose a correct version (and maybe a change to smartproxy if needed)?

- Status changed from New to Closed

I close this ticket as now documentation went to the new web site.
The old wiki with what may be a copy/paste of a ticket is still here in an archived version.
