Description
After update to katello-3.5.1-1.el7 one of content views shows incorrect list of YUM repositories. Specifically, if I go to Content->Content Views->Fedora 27 Server->Yum Content->Repositories->List/Remove page it does not show the correct list of included repositories, it shows instead the same list as Add page (not included repositories). Screenshots of both pages attached. Hammer prints a list of repositories that seems OK (attached). Postgresql tables look also OK. Production log (attached) for List/Remove and Add pages contains different browser URLs, as expected, but the same API requests. List/Remove - https://sat01.example.com/content_views/2/repositories/yum?page=1&per_page=100 GET "/katello/api/v2/repositories?available_for=content_view&content_type=yum&content_view_id=2&full_result=true&library=true&organization_id=1&page=1&paged=true&per_page=100&search=" Add - https://sat01.example.com/content_views/2/repositories/yum/available?page=1&per_page=100 GET "/katello/api/v2/repositories?available_for=content_view&content_type=yum&content_view_id=2&full_result=true&library=true&organization_id=1&page=1&paged=true&per_page=100&search=" Note that other content views are shown correctly. For example, content_view_id 4, List/Remove and Add API request GET "/katello/api/v2/repositories?content_type=yum&content_view_id=4&full_result=true&organization_id=1&page=1&paged=true&per_page=100&search=" GET "/katello/api/v2/repositories?available_for=content_view&content_type=yum&content_view_id=4&full_result=true&library=true&organization_id=1&page=1&paged=true&per_page=100&search="

Is this only happening for one of your content views? I just tried it with a small sample of data on a fresh 3.5.1 install, and it seems to work fine. Are you getting any javascript errors in your web console?

It was just one content view. All other content views were OK.

Sorry, I cannot reproduce the problem anymore. Yesterday it was happening all the day. Today all content views look OK.

I restarted httpd today. But I also restarted it few times yesterday.

I did not see any javascript errors in Firefox (though I was not running web console).

Perhaps this was some cache in your browser or something? Regardless, I'm going to close it for now. Please reopen if you see it again, and please attach some javascript and/or server logs if you can get any.
