Description

Hi there!

I just upgraded Foreman to 1.20.0 and Katello to 3.9.
When I want to logout, I get redirected, if I'm sure to logout.

The screenshot shows the Foreman web interface. At the top is a blue navigation bar with the Foreman logo (a yellow hard hat) and the text "FOREMAN". To the right of the logo are two dropdown menus: "Any Organization" and "Any Location". Below the navigation bar is a vertical sidebar with several menu items, each with an icon and a right-pointing chevron: "Monitor", "Content", "Containers", "Hosts", "Configure", "Infrastructure", and "Administer". The main content area of the page displays a confirmation dialog with the text "Are you sure you want to log out?" and a blue button labeled "Yes".

Looks like the layout refactoring caused the link, which used to send a "post" action, to now use a "get" action that leads to the confirmation page (which it shouldn't).

Before we decide how to fix it, IIRC that flow was required for some SSO flow. So it would be good to restore the logout link behavior.
