Description

All of a sudden, develop tests are failing with this one error:

unexpected return (LocalJumpError)
/var/lib/workspace/workspace/test_develop/database/postgresql/puppet/3.0/ruby/1.8.7/test/functional/users_controller_test.rb:139
/usr/local/rvm/gems/ruby-1.8.7-p371@test_develop-1/gems/minitest-spec-rails-4.7.3/lib/minitest-spec-rails/dsl.rb:22:in `instance_eval'
/usr/local/rvm/gems/ruby-1.8.7-p371@test_develop-1/gems/minitest-spec-rails-4.7.3/lib/minitest-spec-rails/dsl.rb:22:in `test_0012_anonymous'

http://ci.theforeman.org/job/test_develop/database=postgresql,puppet=3.0,ruby=1.8.7/lastCompletedBuild/testReport/%28root%29/UsersControllerTest/test_0012_anonymous/

The first return line isn't valid, since tests all assume logins are enabled. I can't see what the second return line is trying to achieve, seems that the test will never run. Perhaps remove it and check the test still passes.

This test was added in #390. Test could never work as expected. Later the admin autocreation was moved to User model (see commit) but the test remained here. I fixed and moved the test to user model unit test where I think it belongs. PR with fix is here
