Description

I would like to have an interface to add repositories in a kickstart file where I could use a code snippet like:

<% @repos.each do |repo| >
repo --name=<= repo[:name] > --baseurl=<= repo[:baseurl] > < end %>

The variable @repo would be an array of hashes, each describing a repository.
For example, to describe a yum repo, the following structure can be returned:
[{ :baseurl => "https://dl.thesource.com/get/it/here",
:name => "awesome",
:description => "awesome product repo"",
:enabled => 1,
:gpgcheck => 1

+1, this works equally well for debian repos:

```
[{ :baseurl => "http://apt.puppetlabs.com",
    :description => "puppet repo",
    :source => true,
    :gpgkey => "http://apt.puppetlabs.com/pubkey.gpg"

d-i apt-setup/local0/repository string \ <%= repo[:baseurl] <%= @host.operatingsystem.release_name %> main
d-i apt-setup/local0/comment string repo[:description]
d-i apt-setup/local0/source boolean repo[:source] d-i apt-setup/local0/key string repo[:gpgkey]
