Pull request:	https://github.com/theforeman/foreman/pull/8637 , https://github.com/theforeman/foreman/pull/8726
Description
Some templates such as webhook templates don't and actually can't preview for most of the cases. Doesn't make much sense to have this button since it does nothing and only confuses users.
Support for such feature should be done in core to reduce code duplication.

I am requesting 2.5.3 for this one, we need this feature in webhooks. Is it possible to have that?
