Description

Upgraaded from 2.5.1 to 3.0. When I try to edit an Organization I get a "Oops, we're sorry but something went wrong uninitialized constant Environment" error via the web gui.

When viewing organization via hammer all looks fine.

Rake output:

Figured out more info on this, and fixed it for me, but, not sure where the error came from in the upgrade process.

Basically the taxonomies table in postgres 'ignore_type' column had '- Environment' in it for a number of Locations and my main Organization. By removing the '- Environment' line from 'ignore_types' columns on all of my Locations and Organizations in the taxonomies table the error went away.

Not sure if this was a problem in 2.5 and it ignored it or something in the migration created it.
