Description

with the release of RedHat 9 - puppet appears to have stopped publishing puppet-release files to the /puppet pf the yum.puppet.com repo.
it appears that referencing yum.puppet.com/puppet/ was the incorrect path to pull the release files from in the long term.

This is currently a breaking problem for EL9 based install.

refactor puppetlabs_repo snippet to reference the root directory of yum.puppet.com

Changing to a bug since it was reportedly broken for EL9: https://community.theforeman.org/t/puppet-6-for-el9-availability/31019. Also suggesting a 3.4.1 cherry pick.
