Description

The rubygem-radcli rpm is built against an old release of the 'radcli' gem. It is currently using v1.0.0 from rubygems.org, but latest release (from 2020) is 1.1.0.

The current release is missing some important patches for us:

- Update of adcli to use spnego instead of gssapi, https://github.com/martencassel/radcli/pull/7
- Add method to allow updating computer objects without completely recreating them, https://github.com/martencassel/radcli/pull/6

History

- Found in Releases 3.9.1 added

- Found in Releases deleted (3.0.0)

Any hope of getting this updated?
