Description

For example, typing out:

"This is a test of the label system"

can end up with:

"This_is_t"

It seems to trip up if you tab off the field after typing or if your network connection is slow. Backspace and re-typing often can cause jumbled labels that don't equal the name

Very often, when testing with remote machine, it seems the response come in different order than the requests, and the last one wins.
