Pull request: https://github.com/Katello/katello/pull/4523
Description
Cloned from https://bugzilla.redhat.com/show_bug.cgi?id=1092143
Description of problem: Sometimes (for whatever reason?) a content view publish action fails. This is visible in the UI and has a red status bar, etc -- but the "promote" button remains.
We should require that any content view have a check that the most recent publish attempt was successful before displaying/enabling the promote button. There should probably be a help bubble explaining why promotion might be disabled.
Version-Release number of selected component (if applicable): Satellite-6.0.3-RHEL-6-20140423.1
How reproducible:
Steps to Reproduce: 1. Attempt to publish a CV but assure this publish fails (how??) 2. View the results and click the 'Promote' button. 3. View results.
Actual results:
In this case I got required lock: #<ForemanTasks::Lock:0x007fd9a4e3e858> conflicts wiht [#<ForemanTasks::Lock id: 224, task_id: "e0bfaa22-52f9-4cef-abe9-d0ad02afe30e", name: "read", resource_type: "Katello::ContentView", resource_id: 3, exclusive: true>]".
Expected results: I am not sure how relevant/useful error message above is for the bz, but in any case, we should disable the promote button until a CV publish has been successful.
