

Foreman - Bug #7092

API doesn't send WWW-Authenticate header

08/14/2014 12:28 PM - Brian Rak

Status: New
Priority: Normal
Assignee:
Category: API
Target version:
Difficulty:	Fixed in Releases:
Triaged:	Found in Releases:
Bugzilla link:	Red Hat JIRA:
Pull request:
Description If foreman receives an API request with no Authorization header, it should include the WWW-Authenticate header in the response. Not doing this prevents wget from understanding that it needs to reply with the header. (You can override this with --auth-no-challenge, but it's confusing). See http://tools.ietf.org/html/rfc2617#section-3.2.1	