Pull request: https://github.com/foreman/foreman/pull/2568
Description
Lots of outdated info.
"You may optionally wish to generate the online documentation for your puppet classes"
I think that's a bit aspirational, this doesn't work anymore does it?
Foreman, by default, operates in anonymous mode where all operations are performed without reference to the use
When was the last time this was default?
