

Foreman - Bug #8045

Domain names miss validations

Description Currently there's no restriction on the domain names. Even though it doesn't make sense for users to enter invalid domain names the validation should be present.  A typo in a domain name can cause "Invalid name" exception when creating a host in the domain. Domain name is not directly visible on the same tab so it can be difficult to find the cause of the problem.
