Description
On both oVirt and VmWare (and most likely on others as well), when I do any action that (partially) re-renders the screen (e.g. Load Datacenters), password gets cleared. This is not expected behavior as you probably want to finish and submit the form. The workaround is to fill the password over and over again.

This includes Rackspace and (pending Digital Ocean) as well. It affects "adding" a new one as well as editing.

I haven't looked real deeply yet, but perhaps there needs to be different containers for the "authentication" parameters versus the "dynamic" stuff at the bottom.. that way the password field wouldn't re-render, and get blanked?
