Description

After permissions were migrated to filters, we do not copy filters from Default user role. See https://github.com/theforeman/foreman/blob/develop/app/controllers/roles_controller.rb#L28 and http://theforeman.org/manuals/1.7/index.html#4.1.2RolesandPermissions for more details. The fact I didn't find any bug report (it's broken since 1.5) means that either I didn't search long enough or no one is actually using it. So I'd like to know whether we should try to fix it or remove it as it seems quite confusing to me. Users can do similar tasks by using role cloning.

Fixes #9425 - Remove the Default User role

The Default User role is not actually used anywhere, and causes confusion with the Anonymous role. Removing it.

History

Yeah, I can't see much point in keeping it. "Anonymous" is far more important.

#2 - 02/18/2015 06:53 AM - Marek Hulán

So I'll propose dropping this on user mailing list if there are no objections in several days, I'll change this to actually remove it.

- Subject changed from Default user role does not do what manual says to Remove Default user role which does not work

Noone objected so far, let's remove it (also from manual)
