| Hello, | | |
| I configured the foreman 1.8 repo (also tested with nightly) under CentOS 7. Whenever I tried to install foreman-installer-staypuft package, I get a conflicting error with the foreman-installer package. | | |

As far as I know staypuft won't work with latest Foreman. Uninstalling the foreman-installer-staypuft package will fix it unless you're trying to install staypuft. If you do, please consider opening this bug against staypuft.

Btw I'm not sure whether RPM has some way to list conflicting packages but maybe we should add conflict to DEB package of installer.

Why the foreman-installer-staypuft package is available within the yum repo of the foreman 1.8 if it is incompatible with foreman-installer package ? As I understand, foreman-installer is a prerequise package for foreman-installer-staypuft !

Staypuft builds into our nightly repos and we probably took the latest present version to 1.8. Dominic, should we remove these from 1.8 release? I'll try to find out whether staypuft is considered to run with Foreman 1.8 first, but I don't think I'll receive positive answer.

Thank you for your answer. Do you know what version of foreman runs with staypuft ? Some people wrote that staypuft is a stalled project. What is the exact status of this project ?

I think 1.7 was the closest one but tbh I don't know. I think it worked with some specific nightly version... Best would be to ask on #staypuft irc channel about status.

Yeah, I tend to remove packages that we know are unmaintained or incompatible, it sounds like staypuft qualifies for deletion.

For the record, I got the confirmation that 1.8 won't work.

And they don't intend to maintain it any longer, or that's just the current status?

#9 - 03/30/2015 11:35 AM - Marek Hulán

Answer was "probably". Meaning, it's probable they won't make it run with newer Foreman versions.

#10 - 03/30/2015 11:44 AM - Dominic Cleal

Thanks for confirming, I'm removing it from nightly and 1.8 repos via https://github.com/theforeman/foreman-packaging/commit/e06fd17d849a5270c1a303814d26512f527cd820

Apologies for you getting caught up in that Paul, hopefully this will stop other people wasting any time with it.

Staypuft version 0.4.7 confirmed to be working with Foreman version 1.7.5
